SENior Director for Racial and Social Justice

Department: Racial and Social Justice
Reports to: Chief Executive Officer
Classification: Full-time, Exempt

Position Overview

The Senior Director for Racial and Social Justice is responsible for the development of internal/external operations, thought leadership and educational offerings of YWCA's Racial and Social Justice organizational imperative. Grounded in principles of racial equity, social justice and inclusion, the important work led by the successful candidate is foundational to YWCA's mission of eliminating racism and empowering women.

The dynamic leader of this program will develop and position internal and external racial and social justice strategies for implementation within the community. This person will actively work toward an overall goal of eliminating institutional and structural racism and its intersections with other forms of oppression. The Senior Director will honor the leadership of people of color and other marginalized communities, modeling for others the necessary competencies for advancing shared commitments to anti-racism.

Working with the Chief Program Officer, the Senior Director of Racial and Social Justice will develop community educational programming for government, law enforcement, corporate and non-profit entities and organizations while integrating principals and objectives across all internal areas of the organization. The Senior Director of Racial and Social Justice is a member of the Management Team and works with other key staff members and the Board of Directors to ensure the Association remains a successful and viable asset for the community and carries out our mission.

This role is responsible for the development, operations and management of transformational educational services with a dedicated goal of promoting equality among marginalized communities including direct support to women, victims of domestic violence, people of color, victims of crime and bullying, and other marginalized populations. The Senior Director will also develop and execute social and racial justice programming for youth-based initiatives. Based on the start-up needs of this position, remote work opportunities are not available at this time.
